That starter as in any previous year. That has delayed matters somewhat. The meeting which branded the judge, the the sport was good is evidenced by the heavy pipes over the artesan well just sunk are being placed in position, and it is hoped that some time during this week the wheels can be turned.

The street work is progressing, and two crossings have already been set in place. These are at the intersections of Fort and Hotel and Nuuanu and Hotel streets, the work being done at night, in order that general traffic may not be impeded. The trolley wires have been strung on the Punahou section, and next week work on the Palama section from Liliha street will be commenced. The company plans to open up the Hotel street section first. In the car sheds workmen have set up four out of the eight forty-foot cars which will be started. These are forty feet long, tubular in shape, having a seating capacity of forty persons each. The cars have vestibule platforms which are provided with powerful Westinghouse motors. The interior of the cars appears somewhat odd, on account of the tubular shape. By this means, however, the cars can be made either open or closed, within the space Spain, and Spaniards found them so in Cuba.
